For the Cynthiana News.
SHALL I SAY FAREWELL!
I cannot, No! I cannot part from thee—
The beautiful, but vanished past, whose hours
Wove in my heart such strange, sweet melody,
Is sighing to me now. Its faded flowers
Are lying on my bosom, and I feel
A sadness which my heart can never reveal.
I cannot, No! I cannot part from thee!
For I have worshiped thee, dear one, too long.
Thou hast become too dearly loved to be Dissevered from me now, when all the strong
And passionate pulses of my wayward heart
Have made thee of my soul a cherished part.
I cannot, No! I cannot part from thee!
Thou hast become my soul's bright cytherea;
And as the wanderer on the darksome sea
Amid the tempest's gloom, turns to the pure
Unfading glories of the pole-star's light,
So do I look to thee when all is night.

From the New York World.
The Southern State Conventions.
The Times offers a sagacious hint which prudence compels it to veil in a haze of words. We will attempt to translate it into greater perspicuity. Unless we give it more significance than our contemporary intended, it is advice to the State conventions sitting and soon to sit in the South to frame constitutions which conservative citizens can accept, and thus extricate the Republican army from impending ruin. Congress would thereby be spared an inglorious retreat, and the party nevertheless be placed upon a more moderate and reasonable platform. Many pertinent and forcible arguments could be urged in support of a course; but we suppose the strongest in the estimation of the Times, (although its article is not explicit), to be, that the Republican platform might in this manner be so changed that General Grant could be run on it with some hopes of success.

We take credit for having contributed to this dexterous fetch by pointing out the ease with which negro governments in the South can be up-set immediately after the 4th of March 1867. The Times and the Tribune unite in denouncing the method as "revolutionary," but we have a better opinion of their perspicuity than to suppose they really think it so. They were willing to let their readers see how impossible it is for the reconstruction scheme to have any permanent success on its contemplated basis; and one of them by giving the substance of our suggestion, and the other its words, contrived to put an idea into the heads of their readers which they durst not advance except by indirection. To decri it as "revolutionary" is no refutation, and we suppose none was intended. The Republican organs were willing to suggest what they did not deem it prudent to endorse; probably in the hope of saving their party through such moderation in the Southern conventions as is not to be expected from Congress.

Although the charge may not have been serious, we will nevertheless try to explode it by arguments which Republicans at least should accept as conclusive. We assumed that immediately on the election of a Democratic President and House of Representatives, the Southern whites would reorganize their State governments, oust the negroes, hold new elections, and send members to Congress. The point at issue is, whether the recognition of such governments by the admission of the new members would be "revolutionary." It is a point easily decided. The Republican party has educated the people to believe that Congress has the most absolute discretion in deciding what is, and what is not a valid State government. The Thirty-ninth Congress exercised such discretion in upsetting the governments of ten States; and the imputation to which we are replying assumes that the Fortieth Congress will exercise an equally broad discretion by recognizing State governments built upon a negro basis. No body can dispute that the Forty-first Congress will possess all the powers which belonged to its predecessors; and among others that of deciding what is the legitimate local government in any State. It hence follows that the next Congress will be just as free to recognize new white, as this Congress is to recognize new negro governments in the Southern States.

The Times and Tribune must admit this, or see that their charge of "revolutionary" proceedings can be retorted. The Republican party claims authority to intervene under the clause guaranteeing republican government to the States. But here again the Forty-first Congress will possess all the powers of the Thirty-ninth. The Thirty-ninth pretended "that no government was republican which did not permit negroes to vote; a pretence which condemns the governments of the very States which formed the Constitution. But the Forty-first Congress may hold, upon sounder reasons, that no government is republican which is thrust upon the people against their will by military force. If the authority to decide such questions cannot be denied to the last and the present Congress, so neither can it be denied to the next, since every Congress possesses precisely the same powers. Every House of Representatives is the sole judge of the qualifications of its members, and it is a flagrant inconsistency for Republican journals to stigmat

A Tyrant Brought to Grief.

It is not an agreeable business to remind or call to the attention of our readers a name made infamous by acts and deeds that have appalled the very fiends of perdition. One will shun their own thoughts when they dwell unwillingly upon scenes of blood and rapine, which they have seen or heard related in times gone by; but when the name of the author of much of the trouble and sadness which has visited this people, which has bowed many of our old, grey-haired sires down to the grave in brokenness of heart, and brought many dear mothers to grief—we say, when we name the merciless individuals who were the guilty authors of all this uncalled for trouble, we do so not because we want to, but because the tyrants and murderers have forced themselves into public notice.

Among this number of individuals whom we have in our mind's eye, our readers will excuse us for mentioning that of infamous fame—Stephen A. Burbridge—the man who, contrary to all military as well as civil law, murdered so many Kentuckians, has himself come to grief. The hand of his creator has been laid upon him, and his government can't protect him. He is in the hands of his God now. This brute, while laying upon his sick bed, has been crying piteously for mercy, but the traitor should not forget that his God has said that we should show mercy to the merciful. Does not the ghost of Walter Ferguson haunt Mr. Burbridge? Can he forget the appeals the ladies of Lexington made to him in behalf of this youth, and how he spurned them from his presence, and doomed him to an infamous death? Can he have forgotten so early how he sent young Jameson and Reese, of this county, to eternity for no other cause than that they were rebel soldiers? Has the death of Thorne Latimer passed out of his mind? And many others we could mention. If he has, let him be assured the people have not filled their places yet, and that their homes are desolate and dreary to-day on account of their absence, and that their memory is fresh and green in the hearts of the people of Kentucky.

Burbridge has called upon Brisson to help him, to defend him against his bad acts. The shadows of his victims have been following him around. Brisson is as black as Burbridge, and the attempt which the former makes to save his companion from his own bad acts, reminds us of the devil rebuking sin. Their history is written in blood. They are violent men, and we have never known many of that character who died any other than a violent death.

Democratic Clubs.

The other day Dr. D. L. Price, Chairman of the Fayette County Democratic Executive Committee placed in our hands the "Constitution and Rules of Order of the Fayette County Democratic Club," which comports with our notions of a thorough Democratic organization, emphatically.—The venerable Judge Benj. F. Graves is the President, and they have Vice-presidents, Secretaries, and Treasurer. It is an excellent organization, and one that would suit the Democracy of old Harrison. Let us organize a Democratic Club in Harrison immediately, and the people of Pendleton, Grant, Nicholas, Scott, Bourbon, Robertson, Bracken, and Owen should do the same. The meetings of the club are held in the gentlemen's parlor of the Southern Hotel. The Southern Telegraph Office will be located there in a few days.

GOOD LUMBER.—Our readers will find under the head of Covington advertisements the card of Charles & Mathews, on Lexington Pike, Covington, Ky. They keep on hand the best seasoned lumber, together with every kind of window sash, door and window frames, etc. They are clever gentlemen and worthy of patronage. They sell at Cincinnati prices, and will take pleasure in duplicating any bill from that city.

A Good Deed.

Many months since Mr. Jno. R. Douglas, of this county, sold to a neighbor a small crop of apples, which, as we are informed, were made into brandy. The whole transaction, the distilling and sale of the spirits, was done in violation of law, but ignorantly so, on the part of Mr. Douglas's neighbor, and when the fact was made known to the officers of the law the parties were arraigned before the U. S. Court, and as the neighbor had no visible property that of Mr. Douglas was put in jeopardy, and every thing the man had on earth was sold by an order of court to satisfy the law. Mr. Douglas is an old man, and a good and quiet citizen, and he had no more idea of violating the laws of the United States, than he had of killing his wife; and while his farmhand home was worth but little, it was his "little all." To have lost it, would have been losing his all, and would have "made him poor indeed"—would have left him and his little ones without a place to lay their heads. But his Excellency, President Andrew Johnson, in the plenitude of his power, and the goodness of his heart, made old man Douglas happy again, by placing him and his little ones in possession of their farm and home. We thank him with our heart of hearts, for this good act, and had his Excellency beheld old man Douglas and his neighbors on receipt of the cheerful news, he would have realized to the fullest extent, the axiom that it is better to give than to receive. A neighborhood jollification was had, and our President, Andrew Johnson, was toasted in many a bumper. His memory will be held sacred during this generation in Mr. Douglas's neighborhood.

The following will explain itself:

[A Copy.]
TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
November 15, 1867.

SIR: The President has referred to this Department your letter of November 2d, inquiring relating to your application for relief of John R. Douglas, on whom a fine was imposed by the Kentucky District Court. In reply I have to state that a warrant remitting the fine imposed on Douglas was issued by the Secretary of the Treasury on October 11th, and transmitted to the District Attorney at Louisville on October 12th. Any further information that you may desire may be obtained from the District Attorney.

Respectfully yours,
J. F. HARTLEY,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

HELL'S HAF-AKER, 1867
DEER NUSE: I have just returned from the Paris Exposition, and as every thing I saw there was French, it will be useless for me to try to picture it to you, as none of us understand that talk.

U like 2 hev lost ure korrespondent on his return. Wrs u ever see sick? If u haven't bin, I hav, & that will du fur 2 of us. After u begin 2 get out ur site of the land u begin 2 feel mitv funny. One time the botz goes down ure hed jist turns inside ure mouth, and never stops until it gits 2 ure heels, and when the hote gits to the bottom, and goes to cum back ure hed turns up, and ure heels follows, & so on ad in fi ni tum. until ure worn down to a mere shell. I thot I'd die, but nobody else did, & as it takes 2 2 make a bargain, I didnt effect what I thot I woud.

Bobby Lee wusent any more gratty fied when United States Grant told him that he cud quit finin, than I wus when Tury Firny hove in site.

I am now here in this great city of sin. I hev bin in pennytiarries, in the U. S., in gails in old Urope, in kolumns when we wer chargin hell itself; but I never expected to be in sich a place on erth, or in heven as this. U can walk this berg from a 2 izzard, & if u kin fine a honest mau, I'll give all of u your niggers back. Take the white house, I begin with—it is the center of despotic power.—Nobody that lives thar woud listen 2 1 of the rekonstruced a few days ago: But alas for human hopes and nigger hopes. Ohio, Kallyforny, Utah, Kansis, Illnois, Pensilvany, nujersy, NuYork, & main, have sent appliakions to Gen. Lee, for admission in 2 the Konfederacy. President Davis, will be at his old quarters, in Richmond, in a few days, and he will then lay their memorials before his kabi-

net. Massyhusetts sent her petetion 2, but Gen. Lee burned it up, tared and feathered the messenger, and sent him back. Dam her, I'm in favor uv lettin her sink—but we mile take her in and make old Beast, King over her; that w.uld be given the devil his dew.

The people are all well here and the most of em, hev peeled off their mornin fur the Lamented. While I think uv it, hes ther bin an old w man peddlin close through ure city? Thar hes bin 1 in Nu York & she sais she wus at 1 time mistess of the white house. From the quantity uv her close ther is no doubt but what she was. If she hasent bin, she has been a mistess of some uther place, fur where else culd she git all uv them close, and what woud she sav with em. The papers put up an awful howl over it. The demmycrats gloried in it, the Unions morned. She sais if her friends dont give her a big bunch of greenbacks, that she will tell sum uv em, sumthin they dont want to hear. She calls no names, and they say she is now receivin from 10 to twenty thousand a day, from various quarters. They must hev dun sumthin awful, or else they woudnt be afraid 2 let their wives and children no it.—They hev bin byin positions and they dont 2 let ever body no it.

I saw Mr. Seeward to-day. Kalled on him, in his offfis, in a gray jacket and congratulated him on the success of the Konfederates in northern soil. He was rather dry over it. I looked at them skars on his hed, made there by Pain(e). I reckon he understands, if he dont appreciate the proverb, that it is a l ng rode that hes no turn, fur jist as he thot the war wus over, his trials began. Although he had signed proclamations that had sent "30,000 or more" to their graves, he didn't fancy the idee of fillin a yankee farm on konfederate dirt himself; but human hopes are born 2 be crushed, at least were that time.

he "honest old man" who was so fond of jokes, and who took a nigger along with him as he went to visit the battle-field to sing songs to keep his courage up, had a joke plaided on him the same nite that Mr. earl met with his mishap. It was an awful dede, but as good as he was at tellin jokes, he couldn't stand the blows of a deringer.

This letter is already as long, almost, as the future life of the Union so I must close. U and ure readers will please accept my regards.

Till deth, etc.,
BEN BUTLER.

P. S. Send me the Nuse 2 the White House, Richmond, Virginy. We will organize our government as soon as we heer of the vote from Nue York. We expect to git 24 million majority there. They are in favor of the Konfederacy almost to a mau.

WE will offer at public sale on FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1867, our Farm, containing situated on the Maysville and Lexington turnpike, 6 miles north of Paris, and 2 miles south of Millersburg. The improvements are all new. The dwelling, a large 2-story brick, with ten rooms, large yard, forest trees, evergreens and fine shrubbery. Also, servants' houses, meat house, barn with stable room for forty or fifty head of stock, two elegant smaller stables for eight or ten head each, with granary, large double crib, and corn shed. Also, on the place there is a LARGE YOUNG ORCHARD, in bearing, of the best grafted fruit. The farm is one of the best improved between Lexington and Maysville, situated as it is, between Paris and Millersburg, only forty minutes drive from the former and ten minutes from the latter place. Also convenient to two good Colleges, male and female, at Millersburg, Churches, Mills, &c. The proposed line of the Maysville and Paris Railroad runs within thirty feet of the entire front of the farm on the opposite side of the pike.

279¹/₂ acres of land,

The opportunity to purchase such a farm is seldom offered in this country.

Also, at the same time and place, we will sell all the STOCK, CROP, FARMING UTENSILS, &c., on the plantation, consisting in part of 20 head of cattle, 10 head of horses, 10 milch cows, 7 or 8 thorough-bred cows and heifers, 5 head of hogs, a number 1 saddle and harness, 1-lding, a harness mare by old Abdallah, well broke, and can be driven by any lady; one Attakapas pony and colt; 2 jennets and colts, 1 yearling; 3 mule colts, 1 yearling mule; 40 or 50 shoats; 20 fat hogs; a number of thorough-bred Berkshire and Chester White hogs; 4 common sheep; 15 thorough-bred Cotswold sheep; 3 stacks of hay; 7 dozen corn hay and oats. In the barn, 300 barrels of corn in the crib, about 100 bushels of wheat; wheat drilk; a "Buck-eye" reaper and mower; full set of carpenter's tools, 2-horse wagon, spring wagon, a good rockaway, plows, and every thing to a well-regulated farm.

Also, household and kitchen furniture.
150 acres of heavily timbered Land in Nicholas county, 10 miles north of Millersburg, on the Maysville and Lexington pike—a rare site for a saw mill.

The undersigned will take pleasure in showing the place.

PLAN OF THE LOTTERY.

The numbers from 1 to 32,000 printed on separate slips of paper, are encircled with small tin tubes, and placed in one wheel. The prizes of which there are 788, varying above, from $50,000 to $50, are similarly printed on separate slips, encircled and placed in another wheel. The wheels are then revolved, and a number is drawn from the wheel of numbers, and at the same time a prize is drawn from the other wheel. The number and prize drawn out are opened and exhibited to the audience, and registered, the prize being placed against the number drawn. This operation is repeated until all the prizes are drawn out.

The above magnificent single number Lottery will be drawn in public, in Covington, Ky., by sworn Commissioners, at one o'clock, p. m., at the corner of 4th and Scott streets. The Kentucky State Lotteries are no Gift Enterprises, but responsible money lotteries, that have been conducted for the past thirty years, and are drawn under the authority of a charter from the State, and bonds are given for the payment of all prizes. The drawings are published in the New York Herald and the Cincinnati Commercial.

The above scheme will be drawn the middle and last of each month during 1867 and 1868.

We have been informed that Col. Garnett has recovered his stolen horses. It is said they were stolen by some wild women.

You will find the largest and best assortment of cloths, cassimere and vestings, at J. H. Shawhan's.

The Base Ball Club, the Star, of Cynthiana, and the "Waverly" of Paris, will play a match game on next Saturday the 23, in this city, provided the weather is agreeable. Everybody is invited. The game will come off at 1 o'clock.

We are pleased to notice that J. Stoddard Johnson, Esq., has taken the editorial control of the Frankfort Yeoman. He is a man of ability and energy, and the Yeoman, in his hands, will continue to be, as it always has been, a readable sheet, and a sound Democratic organ.

On Tuesday evening last the little son of Wm. Magee, sr., fell out of a water wagon, near the Christian Church, in this city, and a wheel of the vehicle passed over his head. Several persons who beheld the accident cried out the boy was killed, but the little fellow jumped up, and laughing, said that he was not hurt. It is said, however, that he was considerably injured. Wagoners should not permit boys to ride on their wagons.

A. E. Hume. This gentleman is proprietor of "the Peoples' Boot and Shoe Store," on Madison street, a few doors north of the Planters' Hotel, Covington, Ky. He keeps for sale a splendid stock of boots, shoes, hats and caps, and is prepared to furnish custom made work. He took the premium at our last Fair on the Best Boots. Our fellow-citizen, Joel Rankin, is connected with the establishment, and waits upon his old friends in that grand old-fashioned Kentucky style of urbanity, for which our people are so noted. Call and see them when you visit Covington.

JEWELRY—Mr. Chas. Asmann, of Madison street, Covington, Ky., has the largest and fullest assortment of jewelry of all kinds and styles in that or any other city. His diamonds are of the "first water," and he warrants every article which he offers for sale to be pure silver or gold as the case may be. He has a fine assortment of watches for ladies and gentlemen, and he can please all in price or style. He sells his goods at a less price than they can be had at Cincinnati, as he is an importer.

Doty's Washing Machine. The attention of our lady readers, as well as gentlemen husbands and wives—is respectfully directed to the advertisement of Mrs. Mary A. Northcut, in another column. She is the Agent for Doty's Washing Machine, one of the best inventions of this century, and one that every wife should have, rich or poor. The washing of a large family can be done in two hours, and instead of making a drudge of your wife, with this machine, she will make it a bit of past-time or amusement. Those who desire to see this machine work will call at Mrs. Northcut's on every Tuesday.

The Editor of the News. Times, made a flying visit to Cynthiana, a week ago, and when he arrived at his home gave his readers the following:

Cynthiana is a live town. It boasts of business houses that would do credit to a place of much larger size. Her people are enterprising, and are going ahead at a lively rate. New buildings are springing up on every side. Why? It is a railroad town, and her people are not afraid to invest a few thousand dollars in improvements, thereby enriching themselves and benefiting the community in which they live. There were croakers who said that a railroad would kill Cynthiana. It has killed it as it is killing Paris, Lexington and Nicholasville—just as it is killing every other town that has a railroad running into it—just as it would kill Georgetown, did our people get the foolish notion into their heads of connecting us with the outer world by iron rails.

The distillers of Harrison are doing a lively business, as the big wagons loaded with corn, to be turned into juice, which one so frequently passes on the roads, attest.

Mr. Otwell is building up a good business in the drug line. He deserves to succeed and will.

Wash. Juett, is blooming like a rose. He is one of the best dry goods clerks in the State, and is exceedingly popular.

The Editor of the Georgetown Times will excuse us, if we tell him that Harrison is the best blue grass county in the world and that there is none better in Kentucky. We often move around in the blue grass country, but when we leave Harrison it is our opinion that there is none better for grass or grain under the sun.

A sweet potato—yes, a genuine yam, from Buena Vista precinct, in old Harrison, big enough to plug the muzzle of a 24-pounder, and have sufficient shavings from it to feed the cannoners—was presented us a few days ago by William Smith, Esq., of the above named precinct. It measures twenty-seven inches in circumference, and weighs eight pounds. In any county in Kentucky has grown a larger vegetable in the sweet potato line we would like to hear from it. After the incredulous get through looking at and handling it we expect to invite a precinct of people to "snack" with us.

At the sale of Jacob Heneker, sr., on Thursday last, he stock and crop sold at fair prices. Wheat sold at $2.60 per bushel; oats from 20 to 30 cents per dozen in shock; fat cattle—three and four year old steers, one hundred dollars per head, weighing about 1500 lbs.; work horses sold for from fifty to one hundred and fifty dollars and fifty cents; brood mares from seventy-five to one hundred and thirty dollars; stock sheep brought from two dollars and fifty cents to five dollars per head; yearling cattle from forty-five to fifty dollars per head; spring calves twenty-seven dollars; a thorough-bred cow sold for ninety dollars; 13 steers brought seventy-three dollars and twenty-five cents per head.

PERSONAL. Last week we were honored with a call from our good-looking young friends "Colonel" Horace Reedy, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., and Captain M. C. Dougherty, of Fayette county, Ky. Colonel Reedy is now connected with the large boot and shoe house of Southwick & Wheelock, New York city. He is an energetic business man of urbane disposition, and our merchants visiting New York city will find it to their interest to give him a call. Captain Dougherty is connected with the clothing house of Sonneborn & Co., Church street, New York, and worthy of the confidence of his friends in every respect.

"The Pen and Pencil" promises to take the front rank among the many literary works of the day; each succeeding number is fully equal to any previous issue. We are favorably impressed with it. It is cheap in price and excellent in contents. And the new and novel plan adopted by the publishers of making their customers mutual participants in a large percentage of the net profits, is very popular. By the plan 10c., may even secure Ten thousand or One, Twenty-two thousand seven hundred dollars. Subscription price One dollar for three months; Single numbers (13c. by mail). R. Dawley & Co., Publishers, New York.

Railroads.
We notice by our State exchanges that a party of men engaged in the Railroad business, will make a move on the Legislature for an appropriation. The railroad, that the move will be made for is not stated. That makes no difference, the Legislature will take no stock in Railroads, or other humbugs of that character. We are not certain but that we would prefer seeing the roads already built torn up and the grading prepared for turpikes. There are just as many roads as are needed.

MARRIAGES.
CLAY—WARFIELD.—At Christ Church Lexington, on the evening of the 13th inst., by the Rev. Rector, J. S. Shipman, Mr. Sydney P. Clay, of Bourbon county, to Miss Sallie, daughter of Thomas B. Warfield, Esq., of Lexington.

HULETT—CALVERT.—On the 5th inst., at the residence of Mr. Sam. el Boyd, Levan, O., Dr. John Hulett to Miss Lou. S. Calvert, formerly of this city.

WOLFORD—COOK.—In Hamilton, Ohio, on the 15th inst., by Rev. Mr. Hamilton, Mr. J. A. Wolford to Miss Jose E. Cook, youngest daughter of S. B. Cook, all of this county.

Special Notices.
The Truth About Dyspepsia.
Whoever says that dyspepsia is incurable, tells a—that is to say, makes an egregious mistake. More than ten thousand aggravated cases have been cured by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, while the number that have been prevented from coming to a head, by the same means, is incalculable. It is the perfect order. Nothing will do this so effectively, so rapidly, so quietly, so pleasantly, as Hostetter's Bitters. This potent preparation cleans and balances the system, and clothes it, as it were, with defensive armor. Chronic dyspepsia, liver complaint, and fever and ague are never known to attack those who are wise enough to invoke the aid of this great preventive. Oct-2m

A CARD TO INVALIDS.
A Clergyman, while residing in South America as a missionary, discovered a safe and simple remedy for the cure of nervous weakness, early decay, diseases of the urinary and genital organs, and the whole train of disorders brought on by baneful and vicious habits. Great numbers have been cured by this noble remedy. Prompted by a desire to benefit the afflicted and unfortunate, I will send the recipe for preparing and using this medicine, in a sealed envelope, to any one who needs it, free of charge. Address, JOSEPH T. INMAN; Station D, Bible House, New York City. May 16-ly

The friends and patrons will please accept the sincere thanks of the proprietors of the Stone Front, for their kind and liberal patronage, with the full assurance to those who will favor us with a call, that prices and quality will always be warranted as low as the lowest, and the best of attention given. No pains, time or cost has been spared in the selection of goods, and the stock is not surpassed by any. CUSON, MEGIBBEN & KIMBROUGH.

District Court of the United States, District of Kentucky, in Bankruptcy.

In the matter of the application of Thomas R. Rorer, for a final discharge. Pursuant to an order of the Court to me directed notice is hereby given to all the creditors of Thomas R. Rorer, of Harrison county, Ky., to appear before me on the 6th day of December, 1867, at my office, No. 323 Scott St., Covington, Ky., to show cause, if any they have, why said Rorer should not be discharged from his debts; and further, that the second and third meetings of creditors of said bankrupt as provided for in the 27th and 28th sections of the Bankrupt Act will be held at the same time and place.
